Last Updated maandag, 05 november 2007

There are still some beautiful examples left of the Art Deco ornaments.

Unfortunately, only a few items are left over from the original decoration. These images show you the originality and craftsmanship of the period : glass-in-lead windows, doors and ornaments.

Fence

The Art Deco style is very characteristic for the neighborhood and is also frequently used in the cast iron fences. A very distinctive design is the so-called "Rose Cubiste": a geometric rose, typical for the twenties. This design originates from a classic flower basket, but is reduced to bare geometric lines, to the point where it is barely recognisable.
